

Committee on Standards in Public Life
Register of Members' Interests (17 May 2010)

Members are required to disclose interests (including employment, directorships; shareholdings, offices held in charitable bodies and political activity) they, or close family members have, which might influence their judgement or which could be perceived (by a reasonable member of the public) to do so. Also included in the register are land and property; and clients for whom services are provided relevant to the Committee's interests. See paras 9-11 of the Committee's Code of Practice for Members, May 2004.
