

Dear Sirs,

One is almost incredulous at the Home Secretary's submission of tax relief for pornographic films and the further implications of lying from the Prime Minister's Office remembering also the Olympic minister's memory lapse over mortgage pay-offs. Public standards seem lamentably void.

Please give the increasingly cynical public, something more than mere platitudes in your enquiry.

Yours sincerely

I Lawrence.